

Current situation

NT Airports is continuing to monitor the COVID-19 situation. Our priority remains the wellbeing and safety of our staff, contractors, visitors and travellers.

We are actively improving our airport facilities and procedures to ensure our people are protected and to enable appropriate social distancing and hygiene.

Latest advice

There are no active cases of COVID-19 in the Northern Territory.

While the situation is currently stable and some restrictions in the Territory are easing, it is important that we continue to follow the recommended health and travel advice and avoid becoming complacent.

It is important that we continue to adhere to mandatory work health and safety requirements, particularly the Airside PPE Policy. For more safety information refer to www.darwinairport.com.au/corporate/working-airport-requirements

Changes to restrictions

From Monday 15 June, the Northern Territory will transition from mandatory, monitored quarantine to mandatory, self-quarantine. People arriving into the Territory will be able to undertake the 14 day quarantine period in their own home as long as they meet the appropriate guidelines.
